1. What kinds of SEN/D are provided for at Longhill High School?

Longhill High School has students with a variety of SEN/D within our mainstream offer. This includes students with needs around:

- Cognition and Learning (C&L) – for example dyslexia or dyspraxia;
- Communication and Interaction (C&I) – for example ASC;
- Social, Emotional or Mental Health (SEMH) – for example ADHD or anxiety disorder;
- Sensory and Physical (PD) – for example sensory processing disorder or visual impairment

In addition to mainstream provision of the school, we also have a special facility for students with dyslexia. Places in the facility are decided by the local council and are only for students with an EHCP. Students at the facility will receive 20% of their lessons from a specialist dyslexia teacher, as well as support within mainstream lessons.

2. Who has responsibility for SEND at Longhill High School?

The SEND Faculty

Dave Grier is the SENDCo at Longhill High School. He has been a teacher for over 24 years and has worked and supported children in Pastoral and Special Educational needs. He has worked in Special Educational settings and mainstream schools across Sussex. He holds a Level 7 qualification in Psychometric Testing and assessment and is lead for exam access arrangements. He is currently studying for the NASENCO qualification and will finish this at the end of December 2024.

Lynne Foy is the Deputy SENDCo. She is a qualified HLTA and was a senior TA at Longhill High School for 20 years before taking on this role. She has a special interest in speech, language and communication and is our Communication Champion.

Barbara Sauer is a Level 7 qualified dyslexia teacher, who manages and runs the special facility at Longhill High School. She is dedicated to supporting young people with SpLD through high quality teaching and supporting technologies.

Dave Stokes is a Design and Technology teacher with a passion for supporting students with a variety of additional needs. He has been working at Longhill High School for 16 years and has a particular interest in ASC.

Kerrie Sov is an HLTA with many years of experience in the classroom and running specialist interventions. She is our lead TA for ASC.

Leila Austin Fell is a TA with many years of experience in supporting children with mental and emotional difficulties. She is our lead TA for SEMH.

Karen Shergold is a TA with many years of experience in the classroom and in leading group interventions for English and literacy. She is our lead TA for literacy and learning.

Lisa Dickinson is a TA with many years of experience in the classroom and in leading group interventions for English, literacy, SEMH and has a keen interest in numeracy.

We have a team of highly skilled TAs who support children in lessons and with accessing interventions at Tutor Time.

Other Roles

Rachel Congreve is the Deputy Head Teacher for SEN/D.

Rachelle Otulakowski is the Headteacher of Longhill High School.

Chris Allmey is the governor for SEND.

Our SEND Faculty access training and support via BHISS and other training providers. The SEND Faculty provide a range of training and support for the wider school body.

3. How are SEND students identified at Longhill?

The SENDIMS register

Longhill High School keeps a formal record of all students with identified SEND called the SENDIMS register. They will be coded as K if they receive school support for SEND. They will be coded as E if they have an EHCP. In line with the 2014 Code of Practice, school support for SEND means that they need support that is “different from and additional to the majority of students” to make expected progress. This might include specific classroom strategies, short term interventions or additional support.

We are data driven: This means we use progress and assessment data to identify students and provide support. Slow progress and low attainment do not mean that a student has a special need. The process of identifying special needs is below.

Transition to Longhill

Parents and students who wish to visit Longhill can book a tour and meeting with the SENCo. Once Longhill High School has been selected, the SENCo will liaise with primary SENCos to get information and guidance on strategies that are effective for that child.

Students who were on the SEND register at primary school will be transferred to Longhill High School's SEND register for the first term and information shared between primary and secondary SENDCOs. This will be reviewed at the end of Term 1.

Year 7

In Year 7, all students are assessed using CATS (Cognitive Ability Tests) and Literacy Assessment Online.

Along with KS2 data and first term assessments, the SEND Faculty will review the SENDIMS register. Some students may be added after additional testing which will identify traits of special needs. Some students may be removed from the SEND register if their needs are met within the classroom; these children will be placed on a monitoring register.

Students are assessed by class teachers every term: If a student is struggling or not making expected progress, a teacher will put support in place in the classroom such as a different teaching approach. If progress is still not being made, or if the teacher suspects a disability or learning need, a referral can be made to Learning Support.

We will do additional testing and assessment to identify whether there is a special educational need and put interventions in place as appropriate. Parents will be informed when additional or different support is put in place.

We use Provision Map software to create Pupil Passports which are shared with staff to help them meet the child's needs. Higher level of need students will also have Support Plans.

Beyond Y11

Students will be supported in Y11 to make appropriate choices for Further Education. This will include ensuring parents and students are aware of the local offer and what might best suit their needs and wants.

Access Arrangements

Some students with SEND may qualify for access arrangements. These are adjustments made during examinations that don't affect the assessment itself. For example, a student who struggles with handwriting might be able to use a word processor during assessments.

There are very strict criteria that the school must follow to grant access arrangements to students and only a qualified assessor is able to assess a student to see if they are required.

The Special Facility

The special facility has a dyslexia focus: Students are fully integrated into the school on arrival, but are overseen and supported by a Level 7 qualified specialist dyslexia teacher. This specialist teacher trains all the TAs when they join the school to ensure they are able to give specialist dyslexia support in withdrawal lessons and across the curriculum. Please note The Special Facility can only be accessed via EHCP application.

Identification, Monitoring and Reviewing of Students

This intervention sits in the graduated response SEND cycle of assess-plan-do-review and as such, a team of stakeholders meet to identify and review students including: The SENCO, Inclusion Manager, Head of Year, Primary mental Health Worker, Dash Workers, Counsellors, Designated Safeguarding Lead, Attendance Officer and Child in Need Worker.

4. How are SEN/D students supported at Longhill?

Our main aim is to develop student's independence and prepare them for adult life. Wherever possible, students will be encouraged to use tools and develop skills which will enable them to work independently and not rely on adult support.

Longhill High School aims to offer all children a broad curriculum that meets their needs which means considering how teachers in all subjects can develop their teaching practice to meet the needs of all pupils.

All teachers are teachers of SEND and as such teachers' continuous professional development (CPD) centres around strategies which help the learning to be accessible for different SEND. See the Curriculum Intent & Implementation Policy for further information (this is on the school website under policies).

SEND support is provided where students are falling behind because of special educational needs. Most additional support will take place during mentor time. There may be some sessions where students are taken out of lessons, but this is kept to a minimum to avoid disruption.

A sample of additional support available:

- Cognition and Learning:
 - Tutor time literacy programme
 - GCSE English and Functional Skills groups
 - Maths support groups
 - Exam skills sessions
- Communication and Interaction:
 - BHISS ASC support
 - 1:1 ASC understanding and development
 - SALT and social skills groups
 - Circle of Friends
 - Nurture groups for social communication
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health:
 - ELSA and other self-regulation courses
 - 1:1 support sessions with TA for SEMH
 - Counselling and Primary Mental Health Worker (YMCA / BHISS)

When a student has an EHCP, their EHCP will be considered when identifying the interventions the student needs as well as our own regular reviews. The school will work with the local authority to make sure their needs are met.

Support in secondary school will look quite different to SEND support at primary due to the nature of the different settings and what suits students as they develop.

Special Facility students attend mainstream lessons for at least 80% of their timetable. The remaining lessons are spent with a specialist, working on their literacy and dyslexia related needs.

SEND Intervention: The Focus Centre

The Focus Centre is a venue where tailored SEMH interventions are undertaken for students who are not accessing the learning effectively. The aim is to identify the barriers that prevent them successfully learning in a mainstream environment in order to address these and equip the student with the strategies that will ensure they can be successful.

The curriculum is a combination of mainstream lessons (with some in-class support from the Inclusion team within these lessons) and tailored SEMH interventions. For some students, other interventions are also delivered to address any additional needs.

This intervention is managed by the Inclusion Manager who liaises with the SENCo in order to ensure the interventions are adapted effectively to meet the varied and specific special educational needs of all students who access.

5. How are students and parents involved?

Parent evenings and regular reports are opportunities to communicate with staff about how the students are performing in school. Pastoral or faculty staff will contact parents if they are concerned about a student's progress or wellbeing and can be contacted if you have concerns.

We will always try to:

- listen carefully to parent or student concerns;
- gather data and information from subject teachers and year group leaders;
- plan interventions or support with the student and parents as appropriate; and
- review support that has been put in place

Parents are informed if their child is placed on the SENDIMS register. Regular discussion will take place to review to support in place, via parent evenings, reports, virtual or in person meetings and annual reviews (EHCP only). Parents are welcome to get in touch with the SENDCo or relevant key worker if there are any concerns or worries.

If you are interested in getting involved in a parent forum, please get in touch with the school.

6. External Agencies

Longhill uses the Brighton and Hove Inclusion Support Service to provide access to Educational Psychologists and a number of specialist services.

Access to the BHISS EP and other services are organised by the SENCO: These hours are limited and allocated by need.

We work with a number of external agencies to provide a higher level of support to our young people. We are currently working with:

- Brighton and Hove Inclusion Support Service
 - Education Psychologists
 - Literacy Support
 - Autism Support
 - Sensory needs support
 - Engagement support
 - Social Communication Resource
- SALT
- Primary Mental Health Worker
- Albion in the Community
- Russell Martin Foundation
